

Prove Me Wrong . . .

Your disgusting showing at the Nebraska Wesleyan football game left a sour taste in my mouth! If the football team had been up there in the stands, they would have had guts enough to cheer.

But the players' job is to score touchdowns. Do you think it's your job to just sit there stupidly and criticize the mistakes? Let's face it: you just don't have the GUTS to stand up and cheer your team! If you think you do, let's see some of it tomorrow afternoon.

The nearest thing to enthusiasm that you showed at the Wesleyan game was in laughing pleasantly at the midget league game at the half. I didn't know the Pop Warner game was supposed to be the main attraction.

You show a great deal of loyalty toward your social organizations, but there is no excuse for being so selfish as to place them above your school. You're slackers! The functions of your organizations are supposed to augment school spirit, not replace it.

Football is just the beginning. Without a doubt, you'll be just as numb the rest of the year. Has the numbness gone from where you sit, up to your head? Rallies, plays, convocations . . . get behind them, too! Maybe you think this language is too strong . . . but I think it's about time someone got tough.

There's a rally this morning, and a game tomorrow. If these don't interest you—Pop Warner's boys play Sunday.

Popular Songs Will Portray OU Eras for Founders Day

By Gordon Morphew

OU's forty-fourth anniversary will be celebrated by a student Founder's Day convocation next Wednesday.

Eleven organizations will participate in the program representing different eras in OU's history. Student narrators will be announced at a later date. They will narrate the story as the various organizations portray the events.

The organizations will present unique programming of the University's history from 1908 to 1952, using songs of the significant eras with members costumed appropriately.

"Interesting Convo"

"The Wednesday convocation promises to be the most interesting and worthwhile in many a year," said Howard Olson, student director.

Organizations and their eras are Sigma Kappa, 1908 to 1913, the establishment of OU. Their song is "Moonlight Bay." 1913 and 1917 is represented by Sigma Phi Epsilon with World War I, and the song "Over There." Phi Epsilon Pi will portray the new commerce and law building, 1918 to 1921, singing "Let the Rest of the World Go By."

The "roaring twenties" with "Yes sir, That's My Baby," will be presented by Independent Students Association. The era is 1921 to 1925. Chi Omega, with "My Blue Heaven" will enact the depression. The era from 1929 to 1933 will represent the establishment of OU as a municipal institution. Zeta Tau Alpha will sing a "Shanty in Old Shanty Town." The next era, perhaps one of the most significant, representing President Emeritus Rowland B. Haynes, 1933 to 1937. The audience will all join in the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

"Bless This House"

Theta Chi ushers in the new and present building for OU with the singing of "Bless This House." The era is from 1937 to 1941. The coming of World War II, 1941 to 1944 gives us Alpha Xi Delta with "Sentimental Journey."

The post war era is begun at OU by Pi Kappa Alpha when they present a medley of service songs. The Vets come home from 1944 to 1948. Lambda Chi Alpha represents the final era in the long noteworthy history of our growing University by the establishing of an AF-ROTC unit on campus. The Lambda Chi's sing the "Air Force Song" for 1948 to 1952.

Student participation in Founders Day is something new this year and interest is running high.

Play Rehearsals Begin Next Week

After three nights of intensive reading tryouts, Dr. Edwin Clark, dramatics professor, will cast the principal roles for the fall production "Goodbye My Fancy" this weekend. About sixty students participated in the reading tryouts which were held this week in the auditorium.

Dr. Clark will begin rehearsals for the annual players production next week. After the play cast has been announced the "behind the scenes" committee will organize. Anyone interested in serving on publicity, properties, costumes, lighting and staging committees will sign up next week on the Drama Department bulletin board.

In an attempt to create high spirits for tomorrow's football game with Washburn, a pep rally will be held this morning in the auditorium.

Classes will be shortened for the event.

Schedule for morning classes is as follows: 8 to 8:40; 8:45 to 9:25; Convocation, 9:30 to 10:20; 10:30 to 11:10, and 11:15 to 11:55.

Challenges Highlight ROTC Murder Trial

The first session of the AF-ROTC murder trial opened Wednesday, and two members of the court were immediately challenged off the board.

The trial is being held by the Air Science IV students to get practical practice in military law. Cadet Capt. Herbert White is on trial for supposedly shooting Cadet Jack Katz.

After the preliminary points had been taken care of in the auditorium, Defense Counsel Jim Carpenter challenged Bob Darrah, the president of the court, and Bill Ryan on the grounds that they had both formed opinions in the case prior to the trial. The two admitted that they had, and were excused from the court.

In the first session, Trial Counsel Jack Fraenkel called three witnesses—Thomas Burke, John Nilsson and Roger Cross. Cross was on the witness stand when the session ended. The second session was held yesterday, with two more set for next week.

So far, Fraenkel has tried to establish that Katz and White had quarreled prior to the time Katz' body was found outside the school building. Nilsson (who has been accepted as a qualified physician) said that with three bullet holes in his back, Katz could not have lived more than four minutes.

School Nurse Offers Shots for Influenza

If you're susceptible to the flu "bug," see Miss Beldora Tacke in the Student Health office.

Starting today and continuing until next Friday, students wishing to be inoculated against influenza should sign up for the shots in the health office.

A one-dollar fee will be charged to cover the cost of the vaccine.

The inoculation shots will be given by Miss Tacke from Oct. 13 through 17 at any time during the day. The inoculation will be effective for three to four months.

Miss Tacke added that the shots will give no physical reaction except the normal swelling for a short time.

Students May Win Prizes for Posters

OU students have an opportunity to win cash prizes for original travel posters. Travel and Study, Inc., of New York City is sponsoring poster competition for student tours in Europe.

Designs should illustrate or suggest student travel to Europe and should be centered around a slogan of not more than six words.

Prizes of 50, 30 and 20 dollars are offered for the winning posters. Complete information on the contest is in The Gateway office.

City High Schools to Send Five Bands; Washburn Group to Play Before Game

Tomorrow afternoon's football game with Washburn University has been designated as the first annual Omaha U. Band Day.

The marching bands from the five Omaha public high schools will take part in the halftime program along with the OU band.

Prior to the game, Washburn's band will perform a five-minute routine.

The six bands will form the word "Omaha" on the field during the half. Then Dr. Robert Fiester, OU band director, will direct the massed bands in three marches. The group will play "Military Escort," "Hosts of Freedom" and "Our Director."

The combined group will total about 300 bandmen. The 50-piece OU band will be joined by about 250 members of the high school bands from Benson, Central, North, Tech and South.

After the football players leave the field before the game, the 45-

Ten Cadets Pass Written Exam for Lieutenant Rank

At least ten AF-ROTC students will be flashing new officers' pips before very long. That is, if they pass their practical examinations.

The first promotion tests of the year were given Monday morning, with 24 first-year advanced cadets taking the test for cadet second lieutenant.

The ten who passed the exam are Paul Fesler, John Hauray, Roman Hruska, John Jeter, James Klein, Arnold Kriegler, Danny Langevin, Robert Peck, William Pierson and John Vana.

There are 40 more cadets who are eligible to take the test. It will be given each Monday morning at 7 a. m. in the ROTC classroom.

In addition, 39 cadets from the basic classes took the cadet corporal examination Monday. The only four who passed are Ronald Keim, Don Maseman, Larry Peters and Glen Uhe. All cadets who passed the tests Monday are taking practical tests yesterday and today.

Of the basic cadets in the ROTC program, some 250 are eligible for the test. Any cadet who has received no cadet rank is automatically eligible to try for corporal. This test is also given Monday mornings.

Wilcox to Speak at Second Meet on World Affairs

Dr. Francis O. Wilcox will share his background in world politics with Omaha citizens at the second World Affairs Institute Wednesday night at 8:15. Dr. Wilcox will speak on "What Is Our Responsibility in World Affairs?"

Dr. Wilcox is Chief of Staff of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and it is his duty to assemble pertinent facts, analyze information, and provide expert guidance on current issues before his committee.

Through this post in the government, Dr. Wilcox has made a great contribution to the formulation of our bi-partisan foreign policy. Even when he is not on the job during Senate sessions the Chief of Staff attends the United Nations sessions, keeping up on current trends and issues confronting this assembly which have direct bearing on American foreign policy.

The World Affairs Institute has an over-all theme of "World Affairs in an Election Year" and all the speakers will dwell on some phase of the role we must play in this drama.

New Member Enrolls in Cain's Household

Harlan Cain, director of auxiliary enterprises, is passing out cigars and it's not for the Student Center Opening. John Howard Cain has caused a flurry in the Cain household for his proud parents, although he weighs only 4 pounds, 6 ounces and has been here just since Monday.

piece Washburn band will put on its performance. The OU band will play the National Anthem.

The appearance of the Washburn band tomorrow is in return for the program put on by the OU band in Topeka last year.

Dr. Fiester said, "We plan to enlarge the Band Day program next year to also include bands from towns around Omaha, in eastern Nebraska and western Iowa."

Dr. Fiester also announced that any student who would like to be in the band, but has not become a member, is welcome to see him any time. Rehearsals for the band are held three days a week from 1 to 2 p. m.

Woods to Attend Denver Meeting

Two Omaha University professors will represent the University at two conferences held outside Nebraska this week and next week.

John E. Woods, director of the Placement bureau, will attend the Rocky Mountain College Placement officers conference in Denver on Oct. 10.

Woods will be in a panel discussion of "General Problems of the College Placement Office" Russell Sigler of the University of New Mexico and several representatives from businesses and industries will also appear on the panel.

Robert S. McGranahan, director of general printing and information, represented Omaha University at the conference for Society of Associated Industrial Editors in Carlsbad, N. M., this week. The Omaha chapter of the Associated Industrial Editors will hold the one-day conference in conjunction with the university on Oct. 30. The conference will be held in the auditorium.

'Shack' Now Houses Additional Activities

By Mary Ann Conley

"The Shack," once the shabby little brother of the main building, has undergone a face lifting and is even gaining a personality of its own.

The face-lifting took the form of a new food bar and an overall paint job. The new personality is assuming the form of a wider social life for the once-neglected building.

Under the direction of Harlan Cain, a Smorgasbord and a Pizza Party were held last spring. Cain not only plans more parties of this type, but is also considering an Hungarian Party. For this affair an Hungarian group would be asked to cater to attain an authentic atmosphere.

Another festive note is the informal dances which are held every other Friday from 3 until 5 p. m. To arrange for the dances, it will be necessary to close the Shack for at least 45 minutes before the dance stars. This will give the staff an opportunity to push back the tables and sweep up the lunch sacks. The second in this series of dances is scheduled for this afternoon.

An innovation in Shack management will take place Oct. 10 when Cain will relinquish the entire facilities of the Shack to the ISA regional convention. Cain states that the original purpose of the Shack was for recreation with eating a secondary issue.

Although some students may be inconvenienced by the Shack's being closed to them for one day, Cain feels that the building will actually be fulfilling its intended purpose.

Cain is also forming a student group to help govern the activities of the Shack. The group will be made up of those students who are now serving on President Ball's Student Union building committee.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor:

I am one of the many students who eat their lunches and suppers in the Omaha University cafeteria. I am quite sure I speak for a lot of OU students when I say that the food now being served doesn't appear to be of the best quality.

Why does this condition prevail? It seems that when students pay from 65 to 70 cents for a well-balanced meal they deserve something better than they have been getting.

The size of a slice of pie has been noticeably reduced and the carrots and onions have been replacing the beef in the meat loaf.

Maybe the cafeteria could leave a box for the students to put suggestions for a wider variety of food on the menu.

Portrait of a Pitcher

by Marty Blacker

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen, this is your favorite sports announcer, Still Bern, bringing you strange but true episodes in the lives of obscure athletes.

Reel One . . . Portrait of a pitcher in the small town of Marked Tree, Wisconsin, a young pitching aspirant reported to the local high school baseball coach.

"Coach," he said, "I want to be a great pitcher."

"But, Son," the coach answered, "you haven't . . ."

"That doesn't phase me," snapped the lad, "I'll make good."

Yes, that young lad DID make good. In fact he was so good, he won all the games he ever played.

Later, he received a bonus offer of 500,000 dollars per week to play for the Marked Tree Cardinals . . . who were known in the big leagues as the Marked Cards.

This sensational athlete did phenomenal work, pitching 103 no-hitters in one season.

Two years later, his career ended somewhat ignominiously when he died in a fall from a poker table . . . the marked cards had certainly handed him a dirty deal . . .

That's the end of the story . . . but perhaps the most amazing thing about this marvelous pitcher is that he didn't have any arms or legs and was paralyzed from the ears down.

Does the world remember him for his amazing athletic accomplishments? . . . No! Does the world remember him for his philanthropic work? . . . No! . . . Does the world remember him? . . .

Dean Brings 26 Years Of Experience to OU

By Bill Beindorff

There's a new man in the newly re-decorated Dean of Students office.

White-haired, distinguished looking Dr. Jay B. MacGregor moved into the newly carpeted, re-shuffled office as Dean of Student Personnel Sept. 1.

MacGregor, who has had 26 years of administrative experience, comes from Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Ia., where he spent 15 years as dean of the college.

The dean has also had administrative experience at Eastern Illi-

MA and Ph.D from Iowa State University.

The Dean was with the infantry during World War I, but explains "I didn't win the war." After the war he served as Captain of a machine gun outfit with the 133rd infantry division of the Iowa State National Guard.

This is the first school where the Dean has confronted Greek social organizations. "I'm delighted with the fraternal spirit here at Omaha U," he explains. "Fraternalities here are friendly, not the excluding types."

MacGregor enjoyed the Freshmen Mixer last Friday, especially the "energetic dancing." I love a manifestation of enthusiasm, but hate a 19-year-old cynic," he said.

The Dean had no trouble in finding a place to live in Omaha—he moved into a house formerly occupied by a cousin of Charles Hoff, University business manager. MacGregor is now trying to get used to a gang who frequently play "hot rod" in a parking lot near his home between 1 and 3 a. m. Ambivalent Students

MacGregor feels that students are universally alike. "Students everywhere seem to have an ambivalence of school—when they're in school, they wish they were out, and when they're out, they wish they were back."

MacGregor hopes that construction of the library and Student Union is not too far distant. "There is an obvious need for extra space, and the two buildings cannot come too soon to suit me," he said.

The policy of the Dean's office is an "open-door policy." "Room 272 is here to be of service at all times," he added. "We don't believe that there are any problem students," MacGregor continued, "but, rather, students with problems."

MacGregor is enthusiastic about his associates and staff. "They're all wonderful," he said. Associate Deans are Mrs. Mary Padou Young and Don Pfisterer.

Dean MacGregor . . . "I didn't win the first World War."

nois College, where he served as acting Dean of Men; Mason City Junior College, as dean, and the James Millikin University, as head of the Department of Education.

MacGregor received his AB degree from Grinnell College and his bers of the class.

Then there are the Blazek brothers, Charles and Emil. Completing the confusion are two McDonalds, not related. Florence McDonald and Dwight W. McDonald add to Mr. Lewis' grief.

"Things are working out," commented the prof as he gazed at his class roll. "After all," said Mr. Lewis, an optimist at heart, "the Blazek brothers could have been twins."

Profs Face Problem During World Series

By Bob Peck

Teachers, are your class rooms barren??? Do your words of wisdom fall on deaf ears???

No, you're not slipping. It's just that time again. World Series time, that is. Every year at this time, students migrate to the one television set in school to cheer on their favorites.

If students don't pay attention to their teacher, it is not because they are not interested in what the teacher has to say, it's just that under the chair is a portable radio.

There were three types of fans watching Wednesday's opener. Yankee fans, Brooklyn fans, and then fans like Fred Shinrock who is against the Yanks 'cause they beat the Boston Red Sox.

Enough for the series.

For people who haven't visited the Dean's office yet this semester have a surprise waiting for them. No, you won't step off into an elephant pit inside the entrance, nor will the door lock and bolt from the outside once you are inside. But you will walk ankle deep in the new carpet and be amazed by the modern counter and other streamlined changes from last year.

Some die hard southerner has refused to admit that the war between the states was over, a hundred years ago, as a confederate flag can be seen flying from a car in the parking lot.

Crippled Indians Play Ichabods

Three Regulars Will Miss Washburn Game Tomorrow

An injury-ridden Omaha University football team will take the field tomorrow afternoon in the Indian stadium against Washburn University of Topeka, Kansas.

The Redmen will be far from full strength for the contest, with three key players definitely shelved and at least one other hobbled.

In last week's Morningside game Jerry Bahensky, Bob Schropp and Bob Jackson suffered injuries that will keep them out of action for from ten days to three weeks.

Schropp re-injured two cracked ribs suffered in the Wesleyan game and will be laid up about ten days. Bahensky received a broken collar bone during a pile-up at Sioux City, and is listed as the most serious casualty. He will be out for an indefinite period.

Ziehe Returns
Jackson, a rookie tackle candidate, suffered a dislocated knee against Morningside. Although it has been responding to treatment during the week, he will not see duty tomorrow.

Don Maseman, Harry Johnson and Bud Gibbon also received painful bruises in the Morningside contest, but should be at full strength against the Ichabods.

Jerry Ziehe is expected to see extensive duty tomorrow for the first time this season. Ziehe suffered a serious ankle injury in a pre-season intra-squad game and has been unable to see action.

But with the loss of halfbacks Schropp and Bahensky, Ziehe will be counted on to carry a heavy load tomorrow afternoon.

Last Saturday, while the Indians absorbed a 21-14 defeat at the hands of the Maroons, Washburn fell before a defensively strong Emporia (Kans.) squad, 9-6.

Omaha Athletic Director Virgil Yelkin, scouted the Washburn eleven during that contest and brought back the story to the Omaha team. Most of the Omaha practice sessions this week have been devoted to defensive work against the Ichabod formations, and to improving the Omaha offense.

With the loss of Schropp and Bahensky, and the fact that Ziehe is still not at full strength, prospects are that Coach Lloyd Cardwell's pupils will go all out in the passing department.

At Morningside the Redmen's aerial game was the brightest part of the evening for Omaha fans.

According to reports the Washburn club is stronger offensively than defensively, so the Omaha defensive team will have its work cut out for it tomorrow afternoon.

Christie Leads

Pointing to tomorrow's fray with Washburn, Omaha University is leading its opponent in total offense statistics.

The Indians have marked up 554 yards to their foe's 524 in the combined rushing and passing totals.

OU has outgained the enemy on the ground 331-263, but in the air, the Red and Black trail 261-223.

Individually, Keith Christie is the total offense leader with a combined sum of 330 yards, 223 in the air and 107 on the ground.

Bob Schropp is the rushing king with 115 yards while Christie presses at a 107 mark. However, Schropp is a doubtful participant in the Ichabod game, thus leaving the rushing crown wide open.

In the passing department Christie has zeroed 14 out of 38 aerials for two touchdowns and 223 yards.

Veteran Bob Rose is the leading pass catcher, yardage wise, with 124 yards on six completions. Don Maseman follows with a 78-yard total on seven catches.

Maseman leads team scoring by virtue of two paydirt tosses. Akse Schmidt has countered one tally and toed for conversions for a 10-point sum.

Punting finds Christie as the key man with a 42.5 average on 11 kicks.

Total Offense:	Pl.	Rush.	Pass.	Tot.
Christie	68	107	223	330
Schropp	27	115	0	115
Schmidt	20	78	0	78
Gibbons	6	27	0	27

Tatelman Organizes New Card Section

A card section for Omaha U home football games has been formed, under the direction of Maynard Tatelman of Alpha Phi Omega. The section will be used at tomorrow's game with Washburn.

Assisting Tatelman on the committee are Kenneth Borchert and Jo Thorson. At present, plans call for 49 students to be in the section tomorrow, but it is hoped that a larger group can be assembled by the Dads' Day game Oct. 25.

During the halftime of the Washburn game, the members of the card section will move to the bank on the east side of the field for its display.

Personnel for the section will come from various organizations on the OU campus. APO, Warriors and Pinfeathers are the service organizations sponsoring the group. Tatelman presented the original idea to the APO's in his capacity as pep chairman for the group.

The cards used in the section will be made of colored art paper of red and black. It is hoped that in the future more colors can be used in the designs for the section.

Several designs are being planned, including a giant "O" to stand for OU. A giant "Dad" is in the planning stage for the Dads' Day game.

From the Sports Desk . . . Keep Up Good Work

by Frank Schuchart

Congratulations to the Warriors and Alpha Phi Omega!

Leaders in those two groups have responded with hard work and organized planning to the lack of school spirit on this campus. In a recent column, this reporter made some uncomplimentary remarks about certain organizations on campus, and now I am glad to be able to say I was a bit hasty.

In a well-attended meeting last night, the Warriors solicited a large number of new members and started the ball rolling toward a better program of school spirit on the West Dodge campus. Under the leadership of President Harold Sage and Organizational Director Tom Meyer, the group made plans for a large pep section at all home games.

They also planned this morning's pep rally and are making preparations for a large group of students to migrate to Vermillion, S. D., for the South Dakota game. That game had previously been listed as the official migration game for Omaha University stu-

Warriors Plan Rally at Evening Meeting

The Warriors, OU's men's pep organization, began a revitalization program last night with its first meeting of the year. The meeting was held in the Student Center, with about 75 men attending.

Warrior President Harold Sage presided at the meeting. Sage announced that as the first part of the new program, the Warriors would all attend the pep rally in the auditorium this morning.

Final plans for the rally were discussed and plans made for all Warriors to sit in the lower part of Section D at tomorrow afternoon's football game with Washburn.

Dale Cockerill is vice-president of the group, with Ronald Garro the secretary and Bob Rasmussen the treasurer. Tom Meyer is handling the job of organizational director.

Guests at the meeting were Athletic Director Virgil Yelkin, who talked on his department's part and wishes regarding school pep. Also representing the athletic department was Ernie Gorr, who is a sponsor of the Warriors.

Akse Schmidt spoke as a representative of the football team, urging more spirit and team backing on the part of OU students. Also present was Don Pfisterer, assistant Dean of Student Affairs.

As a part of the building plan in the Warriors, the group invited pledges of fraternities to attend the meetings. As most are freshmen, it was felt that these pledges were not acquainted with the Warriors or its function.

'Mural Council Start Program Next Week

At a meeting in the Fieldhouse last Monday, an Athletic Council was formed to govern all the intra-mural athletic activities for the coming year. The program starts next week. Temporary officers were elected. Harold Sage, whose idea it was to form the council, is the temporary chairman. Ernie Gorr will act as supervisor.

This afternoon at 2 p. m. there will be another meeting in the Fieldhouse. If there are any teams in the University that want to compete in the intramural program and did not have a representative at the meeting on Monday, they should send one this afternoon. This is their last chance to enter the program.

Each team has one representative to be a regular member of the Council. This council is responsible for drawing up the schedules of all teams in each sport, and compiling statistics and standings.

The most important duty of the team is the assigning of officials. Every day of each week, each team must assign a referee to a game which involves teams other than his own. Failure to do this will bring a penalty to the team. Points will be subtracted from the total kept in the battle for the intramural trophy.

The football schedule will be published in the Tuesday edition of the Gateway.

Intramural bowling will get under way shortly after the opening football game.

Shinrock, Wilson Play for Golf Title

It will be Fred Shinrock opposing Dean Wilson in the Omaha University fall golf tournament finals tomorrow at Indian Hills.

Shinrock and Wilson have remained undefeated in the first three rounds of tournament play, and will decide the championship tomorrow afternoon. The tournament, under the direction of John Campbell, was held to give Campbell an idea of prospects for next spring's inter-collegiate squad.

Last Saturday Shinrock downed Arch Templeton 2 and 1 in 18 holes, to gain his berth in the semi-finals played early this week. In the semi-final rounds Shinrock outlasted Jerry Norene and Wilson defeated Don Byers.

Both Shinrock and Wilson won by 2 up margins over their opponents in 18 holes of play over the Indian Hills course. The two finalists were members of last spring's Omaha University team and are leading candidates for the 1953 squad.

In vain sedate reflections we would make.
When half our knowledge we must snatch, not take.

OUWI Fall Golf, Tennis Tournaments Open This Week

OUWI golf and tennis tournaments started this week with twenty girls participating in the tennis matches and thirteen girls entered in the golf tournaments.

Beginning the twenty-first, of October the OUWI volleyball tournament will get under way. It has not been revealed who will play on the different teams. The tournament will run to about the middle of November.

The bowling tournament, being held at Forty-Bowl, is in its third week and will continue to the end of the school year.

It was announced that the Girls Rifle team will have a tea on Tuesday from 12:15 to 12:45 for new members of the club. Any girl is eligible to join and shooting experience is not required. Members of last year's club have already begun firing.

New members will begin firing on Oct. 10, for berths on the team of eight. They will also be required to attend classes on marksmanship taught by Air Force ROTC instructors beginning next week.

During the qualifying rounds scores will be recorded and then compiled in order to decide the top eight girls to fire on the team. No tournaments have been scheduled as yet, but the squad will probably open the season by firing against a few of the girls high school teams.

Basketball Candidates Hold Opening Meeting

Basketball coach Virg Yelkin held the first meeting of the year for prospective Omaha U basketball candidates, Wednesday afternoon.

Coach Yelkin presented his plans for the evening cage season to the 31 hopefuls that included lettermen and newcomers.

Early volunteer workouts began yesterday and will continue throughout the month of October. Lettermen will be in charge of drills that will consist mostly of conditioning exercises and shooting.

Workouts will be held every day, beginning at 3.

Varsity letter winners present for first day drills included Fred Shinrock, Tom Mosiman, Lee Nelson, Ralph Pettit, Bob Moscrey, Bob Mackie and Bob Chapman.

Several veterans are currently playing football and will not report until Nov. 15.

GOING A LITTLE TOO FAR

Bridesmaid—How did your husband's friends treat you?

Bride—Terribly! Why, they threw rice all over us!

Bridesmaid—But that's quite the usual thing, isn't it?

Bride—Yes, but this rice had been cooked.

All in the Game:

Sig Ep Sing, Oct. 10 Opens Social Season

The first annual all Greek social event will be held next Friday evening. The event is the Sig Ep Greek Sing to be held at the Hill Haven Barn, 7900 South 30th Street, from 8 p. m. to 12 midnight.

The Greek Sing started three years ago with the purpose of uniting all the Greeks as a body and not as individual organizations.

The highlight of the evening will be a singing contest between the sororities and fraternities individually. Each sorority and fraternity must choose a song, which is one of their national songs, to be judged. The winning sorority and fraternity will receive a loving cup trophy on behalf of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

The loving cup will be returned to the Sig Ep's in time for the Greek Sing again next fall. The contest will continue each year. If one organization wins for three consecutive years the organization gets to keep the trophy.

The judges for the contest will include a representative from each one of the sororities and fraternities. The girls will judge the boys and vice-versa. They will judge only on clarity, dynamics, timing and harmony. The type of songs will not be considered at all.

The rest of the evening will be spent in community singing, dancing and refreshments.

Dress will be ignored with fellows and gals in jeans and bright shirts or the gals in shirt and sweaters if they prefer.

Everyone is to come stag with their own organization.

For those who need transportation, the Sig Eps will furnish transportation to and from the sing if wanted. All of those who are interested should contact Tom Myers.

Sweaters Figure in Evening As Well As Daytime Wear

By Lorrie Lemen

This fall the wardrobe of the college coed is highlighted by sweaters. Sweaters seem to make a wardrobe since they can be worn for all occasions.

First of all, sweaters make a popular school and work costume. This year, collars and three-quarter length sleeves are the fad. Also bat wing sleeves are very popular. They are a comfortable and economical addition to the coed's outfit.

For an afternoon tea or party a sweater can be worn with a dressy skirt and topped with solid gold or silver jewelry.

For evening wear a sweater is really the style this year. Sweaters dotted with sequins and beads can be worn with evening skirts of taffeta or velvet and the coed is all set for the big dance. Some of the sweaters feature scooped out necklines and others have high necklines with tiny collars.

Sweaters come in all types and materials to match the coed's taste and pocketbook. Cashmere sweaters are the most popular this fall, but others can be found in nylon, orlon, all wool and of course the hand knitted creations.

No matter what the occasion may be the coed will always be well dressed in a sweater.

Sigma Kappa Pledges Skip

The Sigma Kappa pledges fooled their actives Tuesday evening and skipped. They are the first sorority on the campus to have their skip night this semester.

The hideout for the pledges was in the private home of a friend, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jungers at 2716 No. 51st St. The pledges spent the evening playing cards and talking while the actives were racking their brains trying to find them.

The first clue led the actives to a fire station at 40th and Nicholas Streets. The firemen had been called for a 2 alarm fire; consequently the actives had to wait for their return before they could continue.

Another clue was found in the sixth hole of the Fontenelle Park golf course.

The actives finally found the home in which the pledges were hiding, 15 minutes before the 11 o'clock time limit, but they were unable to get in the house to catch the pledges.

After the actives arrived, the group served birthday cake and coffee as it was Jackie Snyder's birthday. A buffet supper was also served.
